

William S. Lambrecht
of Littleton; 72

LITTLETON -- William S. Lambrecht, 72 of Littleton died in Houston, Texas on February 14, 2014. He was born in Boston, MA on November 24, 1941 son of the late William and Mary (Feeley) Lambrecht and was the husband of the late Elizabeth (Brennan) Lambrecht who died in 2013. He grew up in South Boston and was a graduate of South Boston High School where he met his future wife at a high school dance. They were married in 1965 and moved to Littleton. Bill worked at Shanklin Corp, in Ayer for over 40 years as a draftsman and an engineer.

Bill owned a house on Cape Cod and enjoyed spending summers there, and enjoyed rowing and fishing on Long Lake in Littleton and spoiling his dog Oliver. He was known for his deep love of dance music, sun bathing and smoking unfiltered Camel cigarettes. He spent his last days in Houston to be close to his daughter where he ate his favorite foods, Ice Cream and Chocolate.

Bill is survived by his daughter MaryShiela of Woodlands, Texas, whom they adopted in 1982, a brother Leo Lambrecht of East Boston, and Sister Janet Stubblefield of Brighton.
