

NDAY GLOBE

DEATHS

CAMPBELL, Alexander

72, of Littleton, Massachusetts. Beloved husband for 30 years of Pamela. Father of John and Duncan Campbell, London, UK. Grandfather of Alexander and Cameron, London, UK. Brother of Margaret Johnson and brother-in-law of the late Dick Johnson of Atlanta, Georgia. Son of the late John and Margaret Campbell of Moreden Park Gardens, Gilmer-ton, Scotland, and much-loved cousin of many in Edinburgh, Scotland, of lung cancer on January 6, 2012. Alex was a remarkably multi-talented man whose endeavors spanned neuro-science research, rock climbing, winter camping, and animal husbandry. As a teenager, he worked in the Canadian Northwest Territories above the Arctic Circle for the Hudson Bay Company. He was in Berlin, Germany, when the Berlin Wall was erected. Later, at University College in London he began a long career in neuro-science and earned his Masters Degree. Invited to Harvard University in the 1970s, he worked at the Massachusetts General Hospital and at the Mailman Research Center at McLean Hospital in Belmont, collaborating and publishing with numerous researchers. For the last 10 years of his life he was happy to run Gilmerton Farm in Littleton, Massachusetts, raising rare breed draft and carriage horses, goats, sheep, and poultry. He was a resource sought by many and he freely shared his extensive knowledge of botany, biology, New England plants, and animal behavior and care. He was happiest on his green tractor tending his compost heaps, mending fences, and cutting firewood. He will be missed by all who knew him. His family will receive friends and relatives at Badger Funeral Home, 347 King St., LITTLETON, MA, on Saturday, January 14, 2012, from 2-3 pm with a Memorial Gathering at 3 pm.
